III. Notes on Voting at the GM

(I) Shareholders of the Company exercising their voting rights through the online voting system of the Shanghai Stock Exchange for general meetings can either log on to the trading system voting platform (through the trading terminal of the designated trading securities company) or log on to the Internet voting platform (website: vote.sseinfo.com) to cast their votes. For the first time to log on to the Internet voting platform to vote, investors need to complete the shareholder identification. Please see the instructions on the Internet voting platform website for specific operations.

- (II) The number of voting rights that shareholders holding multiple shareholder accounts can exercise is the sum of the number of common shares of the same category and preferred shares of the same variety held in all shareholder accounts under their names.

If shareholders holding multiple shareholder accounts participate in the online voting of the general meeting of shareholders through the online voting system of the Exchange, they can participate through any of their shareholder accounts. After the voting, it shall be deemed that all the common shares of the same category and preferred shares of the same variety under the shareholders' accounts have voted for the same opinion respectively.

If shareholders holding multiple shareholder accounts repeatedly vote through multiple shareholder accounts, the voting opinions of common shares of the same category and preferred shares of the same variety under all shareholder accounts shall be subject to the first voting results of each category and variety of shares respectively.

- (III) If the number of votes cast by a shareholder exceeds the number of votes held, or if the number of votes cast exceeds the number of people to be elected in a margin election, the votes cast by the shareholder on the proposal shall be deemed invalid.

- (IV) If the same voting right is repeatedly voted through on-site, the online voting system of the Shanghai Stock Exchange for general meetings or other means, the result of the first vote shall prevail.

(V) Shareholders will vote on all proposals before they can be submitted.

(VI) Cumulative voting scheme shall be adopted for the election of directors, independent directors and supervisors. See Appendix II for details.

IV. Meeting Attendees

(I) Shareholders of the Company registered with the China Securities Depository and Clearing Corporation Limited Shanghai Branch after the close of business on the share registration date are entitled to attend the general meetings (details are set out in the table below) and may appoint proxies in writing to attend and vote at the general meetings. The Proxy needs not be a shareholder of the Company.

The depository of the GDRs (the "Depository"), as the nominal holder of the A shares of the underlying securities represented by the GDRs, may authorize one or more persons as it deems appropriate to attend the meeting and to declare its opinion on the proposals to be considered at the general meeting in accordance with the intention of the actual holders of the GDRs.

Appendix II: Description of voting methods for the election of directors, independent directors and supervisors by the cumulative voting scheme

1. The election of director candidates, independent director candidates and candidates for the Board of Supervisors of the General Meeting of Shareholders, shall be numbered as the proposal groups respectively. Investors should vote for each candidate on each group.

2. The number of shares declared represents the number of votes in the election. For each group, each share held by a shareholder shall have a total number of votes equal to the number of directors or supervisors elected under the group. If a shareholder holds 100 shares of the listed company, then the shareholder has 1000 votes for the election group of the Board since there are 10 director candidates and 10 directors shall be elected at the general meeting of shareholders.

3. Shareholders shall vote within the limit of the number of each group's election votes. Shareholders can vote according to their own wishes, either by concentrating their electoral votes on one candidate or by voting for different candidates in any combination. At the end of the voting, the number of votes for each proposal is counted separately.

4. Examples:

A listed company holds a General Meeting of Shareholders to reelect the Board of Directors and the Board of Supervisors by cumulative voting scheme. There are 6 director candidates and 5 of them shall be elected. And there are 3 independent director candidates and 2 of them shall be elected as well as 3 supervisor candidates and 2 of them shall be elected. The proposals to be voted on are as follows:

Cumulative voting proposals
4.00	Proposal on the Election of Directors	Number of votes
4.01	Ex. Chen, xx

4.02	Ex. Zhao, xx
4.03	Ex. Jiang, xx
4.06	Ex. Song, xx
5.00	Proposal on the Election of Independent Directors	Number of votes
5.01	Ex. Zhang, xx
5.02	Ex. Wang, xx
5.03	Ex. Yang, xx
6.00	Proposal on the Election of Supervisors	Number of votes
6.01	Ex. Li, xx
6.02	Ex. Chen, xx
6.03	Ex. Huang, xx

An investor holds 100 shares of the company at the closing of the equity registration date, and adopts the cumulative voting scheme. He/she has 500 votes in the proposal 4.00 “Proposal on Election of Directors”, 200 votes in the proposal 5.00 “Proposal on Election of Independent Directors”, and 200 votes in the proposal 6.00 “Proposal on Election of Supervisors”.

The investor can vote on the proposal 4.00 at his/her own will with a limit of 500 votes. He/she can vote 500 votes for a certain candidate in a centralized way, or can split his/her votes among any candidate in any combination.

As shown in the table:

No.	Proposal	Number of votes
